New Canadian Opportunities

The Ontario Institute for Cancer Research invites applications for OICR Innovation to Implementation. Information session is September 20, 2022 (register here to attend); letter of intent is due October 13, 2022; and full application by invitation is due January 19, 2023. The goal is to overcome barriers to mobilization or uptake of knowledge required to facilitate adoption of research into policy or healthcare. Some examples of eligible studies include how to facilitate movement of research-generated knowledge to application of such knowledge in population health, screening or clinical practice; how to enable engagement of new users, including patients, along the translational continuum to advance research into practice; evaluating comparative real-world clinical- and cost-effectiveness of interventions; and more.

The Kidney Foundation of Canada’s Kidney Health Research Grants letter of intent deadline is September 28, 2022, and full application (by invitation) is due November 16, 2022. Note that the allied health professional awards open in February 2023.

U of T and the Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique (France) have launched a joint call for PhD mobility funding proposals. U of T will fund up to CAD $7,500 per PhD student and CNRS will fund up to €5,000 per student per year for three years. It is open to all disciplines; PIs must be UoT faculty with graduate faculty member status. Application deadline is November 2, 2022.

The Canadian Hemophilia Society/Novo Nordisk Psychosocial Research Program’s application deadline is November 15, 2022. Funds available: one or two $20,000 research grants will be offered. The grant is open to professionals/graduate students from the allied health disciplines. PhD students who are interested in applying should check with their supervisor and the research office before beginning an application.

The Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council Knowledge Synthesis Grant: Shifting Dynamics of Privilege and Marginalization has an application deadline of December 15, 2022. This grant awards $30,000 for one year (U of T applicants must submit their MRA by noon, Friday, December 9, 2022, and the full application on the SSHRC portal by 9 am, Tuesday, December 13, 2022.). Themes for this grant are uncertain, divided world; identities, privileges and opportunities; accessibility (relates to health and technology); sense making; and life sciences and genomics.

New International Opportunities

Pfizer Global Medical Grants has launched a request for proposals for the 2022/2023 Global Obesity ASPIRE competitive grant program. In-scope research includes clinical research, understanding obesity as a disease (including social determinants of obesity, informing the public health and policy agenda), and more. Letter of intent deadline is October 11, 2022, with full application (by invitation) due February 2023. Individual projects up to USD $250,000 will be considered; there is enough funding for approximately four projects.

Alex’s Lemonade Stand Foundation for Cancer Innovation Grants offer US$250,000 over two years for experienced investigators with a novel and promising approach to finding causes and cures for childhood cancers. Letter of intent deadline is October 11, 2022, with full application due by March 15, 2023.

The National Association of Pediatric Nurse Practitioners Foundation Research Grant application deadline is October 28, 2022. There are three streams: General Research, Quality Improvement or Evidence-based Practice Project. Funds available: $5,000.

Sigma Theta Tau International grants with a December 1, 2022, application deadline include Small Grants; Alpha Eta Collaborative Research Grant; Canadian Nurses Foundation Collaborative Grant; Council for the Advancement of Nursing Science; Rosemary Berkel Crisp Research Award; and the Western Institute of Nursing Research Grant. PhD students – if planning to apply for the STTI grant, please make sure your supervisor is listed as a co-PI and reach out to the research office for more information.

- Cancer epidemiology cohorts: Building the next generation of research cohorts (U01 Clinical trial not allowed): PAR-22-161. LOI optional; expiry March 1, 2025.
- NIDCR Small research grants for oral health data analysis and statistical methodology development (R03 – PAR-22-160). Expires May 2025.
- Cancer prevention and control clinical trials planning grant program (R34, PAR-22-173); Letter of intent due 30 days before application date; expires September 8, 2025.
- Cancer prevention and control clinical trials planning grant program (U34, PAR-22-174); Letter of intent due 30 days before application date; expires September 8, 2025.

Expiring soon
- Development of innovative informatics methods and algorithms for cancer research and management (R21 clinical trial optional); RFA-CA-22-021. LOI required. Expiry November 18, 2022 (two rounds of application for new submissions).
- Early-stage development of informatics technologies for cancer research and management (U01 Clinical trial optional); RFA-CA-22-022. LOI required. Expiry November 18, 2022 (two rounds of application for new submissions).

Many more opportunities are available in the NIH database. Important: for researchers thinking of applying to the NIH, NIH strongly encourages PIs to contact program officers directly. Program Officers give valuable information and assistance to applicants. They will also help rejected applicants understand the weaknesses of an application.

Standard application deadlines apply. Please check NIH funding applications carefully re: submission deadlines. U of T Researchers must meet internal deadlines; please check with research office before beginning an application.

New CIHR Opportunities

Pre-announcement: Re-formulated Café Scientifique Program. Anticipated timelines: Launch fall 2022, application deadline Winter 2023. Objectives: disseminate high-quality research evidence; promote mobilization of knowledge to Canadian public, foster engagement between health researchers and knowledge users, encourage Canadians to contribute their views on future research directions. Research areas: general pool; Centre for Research on Pandemic Preparedness and Health Emergencies; Clinical Trials Fund; CIHR Institute of Aging (aging in the right place; technology and aging; lover-living older adults; optimizing the later years); CIHR Institute of Cancer Research; and more.

Pre-Announcement: National Women’s Health Research Initiative: Pan-Canadian Women’s Health Coalition virtual hubs. The hubs will work with a national coordinating centre (competition to launch in 2023). Hubs objectives: mobilize and scale up newly generated and existing knowledge and models of care; maximize research impact; build capacity; engage in community-based priority setting activities and identify future critical areas of research. Anticipated timelines: Launch: October 2022; ideas fair and learning circle (potential applicants are asked to attend this virtual event to develop their grant): October 25-26, 2022; registration deadline December 2022; application deadline February 2023. It is anticipated that $9.6 million will be allocated to the Pan-Canadian Women’s Health Coalition.

Pre-announcement – Team Grants: Intervention trial in inflammation for chronic conditions – evidence to impact. There will be a webinar to support applicants. Funding will support projects that are relevant to a minimum of two of the CIHR institutes collaborating on the opportunity and focus on at least one of three research areas (intervention trials to repurpose or optimize existing solutions for inflammatory conditions, intervention trials to demonstrate safety, efficacy, and/or effectiveness or new solutions, or implementation and scale-up of any type of evidence-based interventions). Funds available: $8,740,000, sufficient to fund eight letters of intent (max per LOI is $20,000 for one year of funding); four team grants (max per year is $500,000 per year for up to four years, for a total of $2,000,000 per grant), and one knowledge mobilization hub ($145,000 per year for up to four years for a total of $580,000). Timelines: anticipated launch September 2022; LOI deadline November 2022; full application due December 2023.

Pre-announcement: Healthy youth catalyst grants. This opportunity will help support the overall purpose of the Healthy Youth Initiative; in addition to funding projects that align with the overall purpose of the initiative, there are additional priority research areas: physical health of youth (1 grant), LGTTQIA/2S youth (2 grants), Indigenous (First Nations, Métis, Inuit, and/or Urban Indigenous) youth (2 grants), and adolescent girls and reproductive health (2 grants). Overall purpose – four grants. Funds available: $1,100,000, enough to fund 11 catalyst grants. The maximum per grant is $100,000 per year for up to one year. Timelines: program launch: summer 2022; application deadline: fall 2022.

Pre-announcement: Sleep Research Consortium – Research Team Funding Opportunity. This opportunity will support one research team to join the recently funded Sleep research consortium focused on sleep hygiene and insomnia through the lifecycle. Funds available: $1,100,000, enough to fund one team grant. Timelines: program launch: fall 2022; webinar September 27, 2022, 11 am – 12:30 pm, registration deadline fall 2022, full application due winter 2023.

Use your Research Office. We are here to support you. Please let us know when you are beginning the grant process – we are happy to assist with developing budgets and providing editorial, financial, content and methodological feedback. Canadian Opportunities

CONNAUGHT The Connaught Innovation Award competition has a letter of intent deadline of September 15, 2022, with full application due by October 20, 2022. This competition is open to UofT researchers only – UTORID log in required to access grant information page. Funds available: up to $100,000; applicants requesting more than $50,000 will have to show strong industry interest/leveraged funding/investment.

The Banting and Best Diabetes Centre Drucker Family Innovation Fund Grants 2023/2024 have an application deadline of September 20, 2022. Funds available: up to $50,000. New this year, the application deadline for the Diabetes Team of the Year Award is October 18, 2022. Applicants should check eligibility carefully.

SSHRC Insight Grant application deadline is October 1, 2022. UofT researchers must have an approved MRA by 12 noon on September 22, 2022, and must submit the full application on the SSHRC site by 9 am on September 28, 2022. Funds available in two streams. Stream A: $7,000-$100,000 and Stream B: $101,000-$400,000. Duration: 2-5 years. UofT also offers a webinar (UTOR Log in required) on August 23, 2022. SSHRC has also developed guidelines for effective knowledge mobilization, which may be helpful for the Insight grant.

The University of Toronto’s Data Sciences Institute Data Access Grants application deadline is September 30, 2022. Value: Up to $10,000 for up to 8 months. These grants will cover costs for accessing and working with large data sources; projects should bring together researchers from different disciplines to work on projects through a shared trainee or trainees. Applicants must be members of the Data Sciences Institute.

SSHRC and WAGE Gender-based Violence Research Initiative supports academic researchers partnering with other research-focused and community-based organizations to advance knowledge on and analyse the causes and persistence of GBV in Canada. Value: Up to $700,000 over four years. Application deadline: anytime until October 6, 2022. UofT Researchers must submit on the Convergence Portal no later than noon on September 28, 2022. MRA deadline is noon, September 22, 2022.

SSHRC’s Partnership Development Grant is now open for applications. Submission deadline is November 15, 2022. Funds available: $75,000 to $200,000 for one to three years. Funds can support knowledge mobilization as well as test new partnership approaches for research. UofT applicants must submit their MRA by Monday, November 7, 2022, and their full application on-line to the SSHRC Portal by noon on Thursday, November 10, 2022. UofT applicants interested in receiving editorial review (full details on research services UTORID log in required) must submit their application by email by Monday, October 17, 2022.
